Save the Children in Sri Lanka

Three exciting opportunities exist to join an International Non - Governmental Organisation to lead, advice and manage its Head Office and Child Protection teams

DEPUTY COUNTRY DIRECTOR

You will deputise for the Country Director, in leading the development, planning, delivery and management of our country programme, covering Child Protection, Education, House Hold Economic Security and Child Rights and maximise the impact of these on vulnerable children. You will work in line with SCISL and Save the Children UK global strategy and programme objectives, manage and develop the programme team and associated resources, develop and maintain key internal and external relationships and manage and mitigate programme-related risks.

Base Station : Deputy Country Director - Colombo - 1 Position

Remuneration : An attractive salary that is negotiable depending on skills and experience Plus a vehicle maintained by the organisation.

Essential Qualifications & Experience:

You will have a Post Graduate qualification, in sociology, development studies or a related discipline(s), 5 years senior management experience in development and humanitarian programmes and superior skills and knowledge in; analysing information, strategic planning, evaluating options, making rapid decisions, effective financial management, budgetary control, securing and managing grants and risk management.

You will have an in-depth understanding and Commitment to SC UK's aims, values, and the principles of child rights, and of national and international development issues, in particular those relating to children.

Excellent interpersonal, leadership, communication and presentation skills in English, experience in managing and developing a cross-cultural team and the ability to represent, liaise and negotiate at different levels (national and local) will be inherent in you.

HEAD OF CHILD PROTECTION

You will initiate and take responsibility for the overall child protection strategy, policy and practice to increase capacity of staff, civil society organisations, government and other stakeholders; to prevent and mitigate the effects of child rights violations of children affected by armed conflict and disaster. Lead and support the Child Protection team of national and international advisors and district child protection teams.

Base Station : Head of Child Protection - Colombo - 1 Position

Remuneration : Gross Salary - Rs. 143,196/= Plus a vehicle maintained by the organisation.

Essential Qualifications & Experience:

You will hold a Masters' Degree in social sciences, social work, social administration, development studies, Emergency and Disaster Management, Conflict Resolution or any relevant field, have at least 8 years relevant working experience of which 4 years should be in conflict situations and emergency response management at middle management level, preferably with International NGOs. You will have a thorough understanding of and demonstrate commitment to child rights issues, conflict and disaster.

You will have working knowledge of programming and policy development, understanding of national government policies on conflict and disaster and how to contribute to their development with accurate political analysis skills, sensitivity and diplomacy. Progression towards increasing technical responsibilities and fluency in the English Language and computer literacy are essential.

CHILD PROTECTION ADVISOR

You will support district project teams in the Northern Province of Sri Lanka to implement programmes aimed at promoting enhanced protection for children affected by armed conflict as well as facilitating community reintegration for children separated from their families for various reasons including recruitment by armed groups.

You will have an overview of the technical management, development and implementation of the project in the northern districts of Sri Lanka, to ensure that activities are well documented and be a liaison point for Save the Children, UNICEF and other relevant stakeholders. You will ensure that the project operations are carried out effectively, in accordance with the donor requirements, national laws and Save the Children's policies, values and principles. The Advisor will be expected to coach the Child Protection Managers to deliver on the project objectives.

Base Station : Child Protection Advisor - Vavuniya - 1 Position

Remuneration : Gross Salary - Rs. 129,095/=

Essential Qualifications & Experience:

You will possess expert knowledge on issues related to underage recruitment and separated children in conflict countries. A post graduate qualification in social sciences, law, development or any relevant field and minimum of 3 years experience, or first degree in the above fields and 5 years working experience are minimum requirements. International level experience preferably in developing countries is a plus.

You will have an in depth understanding of national government policies on conflict and disaster and contribute to their development with political analysis skills, sensitivity and diplomacy, and thereby work closely with government partners on policy and system change at different levels (national and provincial, district and divisional).

Ability to work in a multi cultural and conflict context and excellent documentation skills including analytical and writing skills to produce progress reports are essential.

Please note the following for all three positions:

- Only Sri Lankan citizens are eligible to apply for the above position.
- Closing date for applications will be on 28th June 2009.
