

The development ...

A: In the recent past we have seen some of the service sector the labour employment has increased especially in the Personal services, Trade and Hotel services and in the agriculture industry with the liberation of the North and East provinces. The programme which are conducted at Technical and Vocational Education training centers and other higher Education Institutes should redesign to draw up new strategies and policies to provide training that match the labour demand at the National and International levels.

We have noticed the steady increase in foreign employment over the past several years which have contributed significantly to foreign exchange earnings to our country. In order to cater to this market further efforts are required to educate the youth in these jobs and helping them to enhance their skills in the required jobs.

It is paramount of importance that the private sector is in collaboration with the Government should initiate to address the unemployment among the youth of the nation. The main concern in this issue is lack of relevant information available to young job seekers about the actual nature of the job availabilities in the private sector. Hence, we should initiate the possibility of conducting programmes to such youth to enhance their soft skills such as work ethics, right attitude that youth should possess when attempting to enter into the such workforce in the Corporate World. The Government should encourage private sector in investing in such activities.
